

Responsible Gaming

This information is to assist our supporters to make informed decisions on your gambling. Our art unions are lotteries by another name and are therefore a gambling activity. Such activities are regulated by various government agencies, these charitable and non-profit gaming activities are covered by specific legislations. For us to conduct our art union activity we are therefore required to meet strict licensing requirements.

Our terms and conditions must be provided <https://kidswithcancer.org.au/terms-conditions/> and taking part in our art unions does not mean that you will definitely win. Your chance of winning depends on the number of tickets you hold and the number of tickets we sell in each campaign

We will ensure that no gambling-related correspondence or promotional material is sent to supporters who have formally requested that this information not be sent. If you think that gambling is a problem for yourself there are many resources available to seek help.

The National Problem Gambling Helpline (1-800-522-4700) is available 24/7 and is 100% confidential. This hotline connects callers to local health and government organizations that can assist with their gambling addiction.

Always consider that:

- Chances are you're about to lose.
- Think. Is this a bet you really want to place?
- What's gambling really costing you?
- What are you prepared to lose today? Set a deposit limit.
- Imagine what you could be buying instead.
- What are you really gambling with?

If you think it's appropriate you can take a break from any form of gambling and ban yourself

Self-exclusion can help if you want to cut down, have a break or quit for good. You choose the locations or websites you want to be banned from. Anyone can do it, and it's free.
